LICENSE # RR2031 LETTER OF EXPLANATION

This is a letter stating the reason why our company failed to renew within the renewal/grace period for this license. At our office I have found the "License Renewal Notice for 2012" in a file with the bottom tab still attached. It seems to me that the license office did indeed send this in a timely manner, but our office worker accidentally filed it with other licensing information, not realizing that the bottom of the notice needed to be sent in, with payment. This was not noticed until I tried to pull a permit under this license on Thursday, August 2, 2012 (128 days past the due date). It took that long because we rarely use this license; as we are general contractors and mostly just use this license to put roofs on our own projects.
